

Appian for Healthcare Providers

MEDICAL / NURSING STUDENT / RESIDENT CLINICAL ROTATIONS TRACKING

- Improve communication through the Appian Intelligent Contact Center™
- Automate clinical qualifications, scheduling, and more
- Integrate processes with Appian's Intelligent Contact Center™
- Fast-track student and resident onboarding while monitoring progress

Healthcare organizations need a fast, seamless way to support nursing and medical students along with interns, residents, and fellows. Processes for qualifications-checking, scheduling, and communicating with universities as well as linking up preceptors and preceptees can be laborious and redundant. In turn, many students struggle to quickly enter rotation and get first-hand experience with patients.

MEET THE CHALLENGE

Appian can streamline disparate systems into one unified interface to help providers track clinical students' progress. Study assignments, preceptor assignments, and course tracking are bundled into a single source of truth through omni-channel engagement, creating intuitive processes for hospital and academic administrators running these programs.

This platform empowers students and universities to connect more easily with information about courses, acceptances, authorizations, and more from practicum locations. It accomplishes this through its ability to integrate with the Appian Intelligent Contact Center™ alongside case management. Through Appian Records this, in turn, makes it easier to consolidate information in a single place for easier access by clinical program leadership and administration.
