

Fast Integration

NO MIGRATION NEEDED, WHEREVER YOUR DATA LIVES.

How can you bring your systems together seamlessly—and quickly—while keeping your data in place? Harness the power of low-code automation. Appian’s Low-code automation platform unites industry-leading workflow, artificial intelligence (AI), and robotic process automation (RPA) for today’s workers.

With Appian, you spend less time integrating and more time building, while staying in control of your data.

Appian designed our low-code automation platform to make your world a better place

Integrate without writing any code

Orchestrate all of your enterprise data, systems, and web services without the need for complex coding.

Keep your data in place

Control your data without needing to migrate it, and keep data updated across all original sources.

Accelerate development

Leverage smart tools like guided templates, forms, and built-in testing capabilities.

Unify your information

Eliminate data silos with Appian Records, and view your data in a single, customizable and actionable interface.

“Previously [the customer] might have up to 12 to 22 systems that they had to navigate on a daily basis. That’s down to one, which is Appian”

Build applications faster than ever with zero-code integration

Unify your data with zero-code integration—not migration. You don’t have to hard code with JSON, XML, or other languages. Once you’re connected, you can access data and interact with the data anywhere within your Appian solution.

...and many more!

Seamlessly connect data in several easy ways

Zero-code

Super fast, no coding required, visual drag-and-drop
